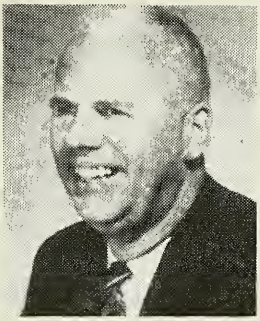
MEMO TO THE PRESS AND RADIO-TV SPORTSCASTERS



Again we take pleasure in presenting Maryland's annual football brochure which we hope will aid you in covering the Terps.

Byrd Stadium will be the scene of five home games this fall with four of Maryland's five road games being scheduled for stadiums of our opponents. The fifth with Duke, will be held in Norfolk's Oyster Bowl (Foreman Field).

Coach Ward's weekly press luncheons will be held on Mondays this fall and again will be held in the basement of the University's Adult Education Center, just a half mile east of Byrd Stadium. They will start at 12 noon.

This office will, of course, handle all applications for Byrd Stadium games. Tickets are mailed on Mondays of the week of each game. Requests received after Tuesdays will be held at Booth No. 6, to the right of the stadium's main (south) entrance. Each correspondent should arrange for his own wire with his local Western Union office.

A radio booth is available for the visiting team's official station and is located on the lower level of the press box, to the right as you enter.

Scouts are assigned seats in the lower box.

Parking permits are assigned to those covering games and permit parking in Z Lot, immediately in front of the main entrance and the areas adjacent to Cole Field House.

Current stats, with accompanying release, will be mailed out each Monday, following the weekly press conference.

An ample supply of glossies and TV slides of the top Terps is available. Media in the areas where Maryland will play this year will receive an assortment early in September, but please do not hesitate to request any others you may desire.

THE UNIVERSITY

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

The University of Maryland has a rich and proud history and a dynamic future.

Three decades after the Declaration of Independence was signed a College of Medicine was established in Baltimore, the fifth such school in the United States. The first seven students enrolled received their lectures in the homes of their professors.

In 1812, the State Legislature authorized the College of Medicine of Maryland to appoint and annex to itself three other colleges and facilities — Divinity, Law and Arts and Sciences. These four colleges became known as the University of Maryland. In the years that followed the departments of Dentistry and Pharmacy as well as the Training School for Nurses was created within the College of Medicine.

Meanwhile on the old Rossborough Estate, 30 miles south of Baltimore near Washington, D.C., another institution, the Maryland Agricultural College was developing.

In 1856, as a result of interest generated by a group of farsighted Maryland farmers, the State legislature passed an act to establish and endow an agricultural college, making it the second such institution established in the Western Hemisphere. In 1862 the college became a land-grant institution under the act of the United States Congress.

In 1920 the State Legislature passed an act which merged the University of Maryland (Baltimore) with the Maryland State College of Agriculture (College Park). It was given the name University of Maryland.

To meet the growing demands for higher education both the College Park and Baltimore professional school campuses have grown in size and diversity.

Another dimension in the University's continuing effort to meet the educational needs of the State was the establishment of University of Maryland Baltimore County Campus in 1966. Located on a 445-acre site in Catonsville, UMBC will offer a four-year liberal arts program by 1969—the junior year will be added in 1968. A recent survey forcasts that the new university will reach 20,000 enrollment over the next decade.

University programs have three objectives. First, offering educational programs at home and abroad; second, conducting research activities in College Park and Baltimore and agricultural programs in all geographical areas of the State; and third, providing service to all citizens of the state, including commerce, industry and the agricultural community.

The instructional programs of the university, ranging through the entire field of human knowledge, are offered by more than 100 departments and institutes in eight colleges, Graduate School and Schools of Architecture and Library Science and Information Services at College Park, and six professional schools in Baltimore City. The Department of Air Science at College Park conducts a voluntary four-year curriculum leading to a commission in the Air Force.

The University offers 14 categories of degrees ranging from the B.S. and B.A. to the Ph.D. In 1967-68 the university awarded 1352 graduate and professional degrees and 3720 baccalaureate degrees.

Research expenditures of the university for 1967-68 exceeded $20 million.

DR. WILSON H. ELKINS

PRESIDENT, UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

The twenty-first president of the University of Maryland, Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, is serving his fifteenth year in that office. He came to Maryland in September of 1954 from Texas Western College, a branch of the University of Texas at El Paso. He previously had served as president of San Angelo Junior College.

He holds B.A. and M.A. degrees from the University of Texas where, as an undergraduate, he earned eight varsity letters in football, basketball and track.

As a Rhodes Scholar, he received B. Litt, and Ph.D. degrees from Oxford University.

His administration at Maryland has been marked by a strengthening of academic standards along with equally high teaching standards. Faced with skyrocketing student enrollment, the University under his leadership has consistently sought to provide quality education for an increasing number of students.

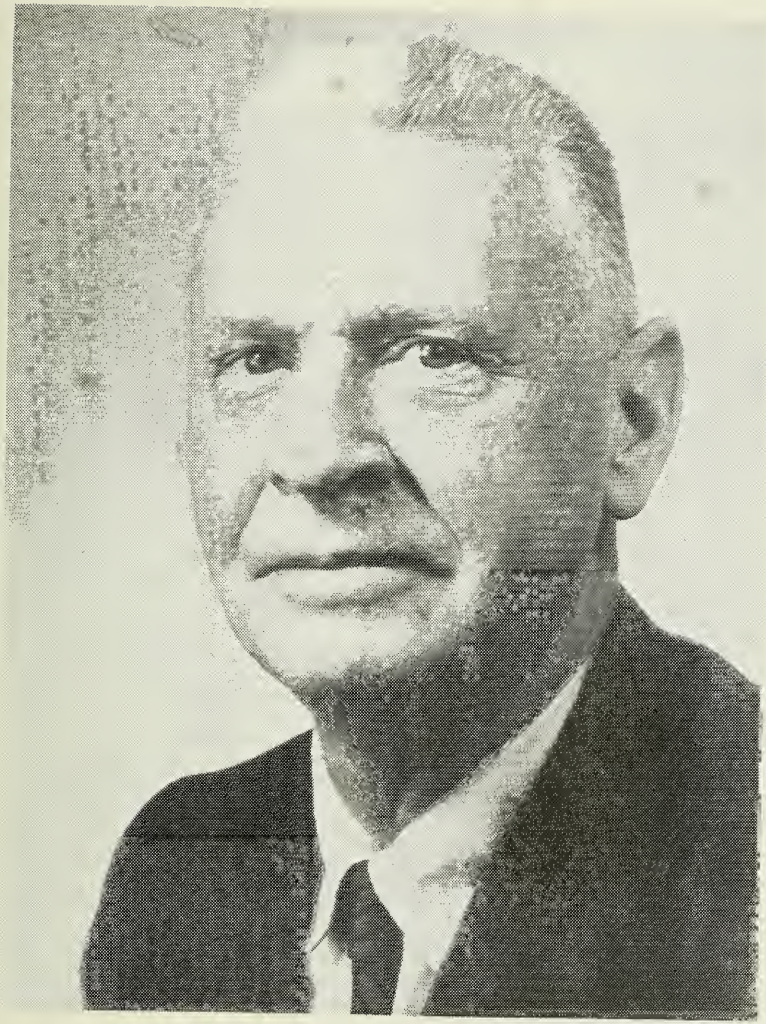
Dr. Elkins is past president of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, a member of the Southern Regional Education Board, and the Washington Center for Metropolitan Studies. He is a member of the Board of Visitors of the United States Naval Academy and serves as deputy director of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond.

On the subject of sports, he has said that values and attitudes developed in activities outside of the classroom, including football, are important elements of a liberal education.

WILLIAM W. COBEY

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Bill Cobey enters his 13th season as director of athletics at Maryland this fall continuing a long Cobey relationship with the University which started with his father's matriculation from 1897 to 1901. Cobey began his professional career with Maryland in 1931, one year after graduating, as its cashier, a role he held for 17 years. He was appointed Graduate Manager of Athletics in 1948, holding that post for eight years when he succeeded the late Jim Tatum as athletic director.



DR. JOHN E. FABER

CHAIRMAN, THE ATHLETIC COUNCIL

Jack Faber, long-time lacrosse coach and head of the University's microbiology department, became Chairman of The Athletic Council in 1963. During his 36-year tenure as lacrosse coach, Maryland won five national championships outright and shared two others.

This year he has a new position: President of The Atlantic Coast Conference.

Bob Ward, Maryland's first all-America, never had experienced a losing season as a player and only one in five years as an assistant coach at his alma mater, but last year Fate more than made up for her previous favors.

Although undoubtedly stunned by the 0-9 record of his first year as head coach, Ward has recovered nicely and, although admittedly two or three years away from achieving his primary goals, seems to be on the right road. His first recruits went undefeated as freshmen last year and he's hopeful that this year's crop of schoolboys will be just as potent.

A firm believer in close and personal relationships between players and coaches, Ward realizes that each boy is an individual with a different background, personality and temperament. Proceeding on that theory, he insists that each of his players be handled as an individual. His philosophy seems to be summed up best by this paragraph:

"I feel that when a boy steps on to that Maryland playing field, he wants to develop himself into the best possible player and is willing to work toward that goal. Therefore, I expect him to put forth the necessary effort and determination to become an excellent football player. We expect an all-out effort at all times and, in return, we give our very best as coaches."

It's noteworthy that Maryland suited up more than 100 players for its spring game last May. The University's oldest supporters couldn't remember seeing as many in uniform before, except on a few days during the start of spring or fall workouts.

Ward's actions on behalf of his players substantiate his words. He arranged to have both the varsity and freshmen squads housed in one of Maryland's newest high-rise dorms directly north and overlooking Byrd Stadium. ("It's just like raising a family—you have your family under one roof and good children come from good home environment"). Two assistant coaches, a graduate resident and a trainer live with the athletes. These residents of Ellicott Hall eat in the new and modern Ellicott complex dining hall. The training table is bright and cheerful and maintained under the supervision of a staff food coordinator.

A fully-equipped weight room has been provided for the players in the Cole Field House across the road from the stadium. Here are five power racks, four Olympic sets with 375 pounds of weights, incline boards and skip ropes. Ward is a stickler for conditioning: he was an all-America at 185 and retains that weight today.

All of these new facilities are designed to further Ward's chief objective: to raise Maryland to the grid heights it knew just prior to, during and immediately after his days as a player (four bowl teams in eight years and a national champion in 1953).

Ward's honors as a player were many: all-America guard for two years, "lineman of the year" of the Southern Conference, most valuable player in the 1950 Gator Bowl, the Washington Touchdown Club's player of the area in 1951, and the national "lineman of the year" as a senior. He was captain of every team he played on from his high school days through the College All-Stars of 1952. His Maryland jersey number—28—is the only number which ever has been retired by Maryland officials.

During his undergraduate days he also had time for extracurricular campus activities, being vice president of the Maryland Student Government Association, a member of Omicron Delta Kappa (national honorary leadership fraternity), Phi Delta Theta (social fraternity) and a listing in Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities.

Bob's wife, Ellen, attended Iowa State University for two years during their second stay in Ames. They have a family of four consisting of three boys—Jim, 17; Chip, 14, and Kelly, 11, and one daughter, Kathy, 16.

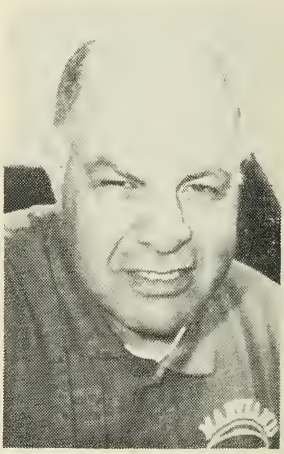
THE ASSISTANT COACHES

ERNIE JORGE, who will handle the offensive line, is a native of California where he coached after playing at St. Mary's. He has probably the broadest experience in coaching of any of the staff. After participating in three sports — football, baseball and track — at St. Mary's where he captained the grid team in 1937 and received the most loyal player award, Ernie started his coaching career at Modesto (Calif.) High, leading it to three championships during his six years there. He spent the next six years at the College (now University) of the Pacific, the last two as head coach. He twice led the Tigers into the Sun Bowl before accepting an assistant's job with the old Chicago Cardinals of the NFL. After two years with the pros, Jorge joined the Naval Academy's staff at Annapolis and served there 12 years. He and the late Eddie Erdelatz were the closest of friends. While serving with the middies, Navy defeated Army six times in the 12 games played. Two were tied.

Ernie and his wife, Dorothy, have a grown daughter, Mrs. Joanne Wilkins, and one grandchild, Debra Lynn.

DIM MONTERO, Ward's administrative assistant and defensive coach is a man who has had an extremely successful career as a high school coach with four undefeated teams at Salesianum, Delaware, marked by winning streaks of 29 and 22 straight victories. Dim not only can coach with the best but has a genuine understanding of young men. His many friends will tell you his qualities run deep. He is an excellent technician and his coaching technique earned him honors as national Catholic coach of the year in 1964. One year he was Delaware's coach-of-the-year.

Before turning to high school ranks, Dim had been head coach at Washington College, King College and an assistant at VMI. He is a graduate of LaSalle ('46) and his wife, Dottiejean, attended Immaculata College in the Philadelphia area. They have three children: Dennis, 18; Dianne, 15, and Denise, 13.



HOWARD JUSTICE, who will coach the offensive backs and ends this year, served with head coach Ward at Iowa State where both were assistants. Prior to coaching the Cyclones, Justice had compiled a very impressive record as a high school coach in Iowa, with a 76-26-6 record.

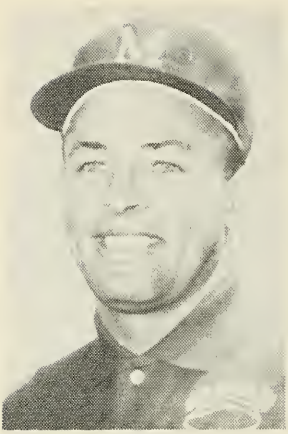
Howard graduated from Simpson College, Iowa, with an A.B. and Masters degree in Education. He lettered in both football and baseball in his undergraduate days.

Howard and his wife, Norma who attended the University of Northern Iowa have one daughter, Vicki, 15, and two sons, Steve, 12, and Craig, 7.

FRED KERN a Maryland alumnus and formerly a successful high school coach. During his four years at Baltimore's Calvert Hall High School, Kern's teams compiled a 29-9-1 record.

He was an all-state football selection at Baltimore Poly and played both football and lacrosse here at Maryland. His play in the latter sport earned him honorable mention for the all-America squad of 1959.

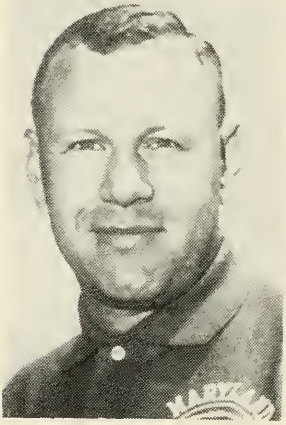
Fred's wife, Patty, was a Maryland coed. The Kern clan includes Fred, 9; Kathy, 8; Joanne, 5; Mary Pat, 2, and Susan, 1.



LEE ROYER, the new addition to the varsity staff this year, came to Maryland from Virginia Tech. His previous experience was at Fort Knox, Chester (Pa.) High, Penn Military College, University of Connecticut and Boston College. A highly-spirited coach, his enthusiasm is infectious and serves to pep up any situation. Lee played his college football at West Chester, winning letters all four years as a fullback and line backer. He served as co-captain of the 1956 team.

Both Lee and his wife, Ruth, are graduates of West Chester State Teachers College. The three small Royers are Jenny, 8; Amy, 6, and Timmy, 2.

"CHUCK" STEIMLE — Iowa State '63— Chuck was an outstanding guard for the Cyclones and lettered for three years at the University. After graduation he played a year of pro ball for Montreal in the Canadian League. In 1965 he returned to I.S.U. to coach the freshman football team. This past year he served as a resident coach in Ellicott Hall and enjoyed a great relationship with the players.



HARRY DIETZ joined the Maryland staff this past April as the head Freshman coach. His return to football coaching follows a year's duty in Viet Nam as a captain in the Marine Corps. He formerly served as an assistant coach at the U.S. Naval Academy. In his playing days he quarterbacked the Navy team to an Orange Bowl appearance in 1961.

Harry and Wynne (U. of Arizona) are the parents of one son, Stephen Todd Moss, 2.

THE TRAINERS

HEAD TRAINER WILLIAM FRY — "Spider" returned to the University last year after five years as head trainer at Dartmouth College. He served as director of District III for the National Athletic Trainer's Association in 1958. As an undergraduate of Maryland he lettered in soccer and earned a B.S. degree in Phy. Ed. In this past year at the helm of all training facilities for the Terps, Spider has done a fantastic job of completely renovating the training room. Under his supervision it has been so modernized that it now ranks as one of the best in the country.

Spider and Sandy (Penn State 1961) have one daughter, Elizabeth Kay, who celebrated her first birthday last July 25.

ASSISTANT TRAINER KENNETH METTLER is another Maryland product, having taken his B.S. degree in 1965. Kenny served as head trainer for one year at Lehigh College in Bethlehem, Pa., before returning to Maryland in 1966.

Kenny, a native of Washington, D.C., attended Northwestern High School in Hyattsville. He currently is working on his masters degree in physical education and teaches a course in athletic training.

As a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association, he serves on that organization's ethics committee and is editor and publisher of the District III trainers' newsletter. He also is treasurer of the Maryland Alumni Association of Prince Georges County.

Kenny and Diane have one son, Michael Kenneth, who will be one year old in October.

THE GENERAL OUTLOOK

Admittedly a year or two away from the kind of team their coach would like to produce at his alma mater, the 1968 Terps seem favored to accomplish one objective: an improvement on their record of yesteryear.

Not that the schedule's any easier. Florida State's co-Gator Bowl champions will give Maryland all it can handle in the opener, and then it's Syracuse and Duke in the second and third games.

But recruits of the Bob Ward regime will be playing for Maryland for the first time this fall and he and his staff seem to have done an excellent job on their first go-round. These recruits went undefeated as freshmen last fall and there's a healthy sprinkling of them among the first two offensive and defensive units.

In addition, Ward's had more than a year to install his system and the upper classmen undoubtedly have learned much after a season of especially hard knockings.

Much of the hopes for a better season are aroused, naturally, by the return of quarterback Alan Pastrana, sidelined last year as the result of a knee operation early in 1967. Pastrana gave his knee every kind of test during the spring drills and seems ready to take up where he left off in 1966 with an Atlantic Coast Conference record for touchdown passes (17) and two school records.

However, Pastrana shouldn't have to carry the entire offensive burden. In seniors Billy Lovett and Ernie Torain (who sat out last year) and Paul Fitzpatrick he has a trio of power runners and in Tony Greene and Al Thomas he seems to have the prospects of speed and elusiveness, two qualities sorely missing last year. Bernie "Sonny" Demczuk, a junior who didn't letter last year, also surprised as a wingback last spring and could be a starter.

As pre-season drills start the first offensive unit will have seven lettermen and three sophs. Bill Meister, a 6-1, 220-pounder earned a starting guard post last spring and Rich Slaninka, 6-2, 235, turned the same trick at tackle. Thomas clinched the fourth backfield spot to team with Pastrana, Lovett and Demczuk.

Defensively, eight lettermen will be filling positions on the first unit which will have a most promising soph, 220-pound Pete Mattia at middle guard. Back in the front line are John Gebhardt and Mike Grace at tackles and Hank Garies at an end.

Dean Landolt, an area product and sophomore, will be one of the line backers along with juniors Dan Kecman and Steve Ciambor, while lettermen Bob Haley and Mike Brant are the defensive halfbacks. Wally Stalnaker, who intercepted four passes in his first five games before being hurt last year, again will hold down safety.

Of the 22 positions on the second units, 13 were won by sophs last spring. Three lettermen will be found on the second offensive team and a like number on the No. 2 defensive unit.

Defensive Squad

The Ends

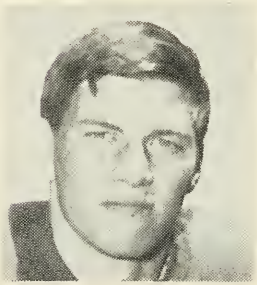
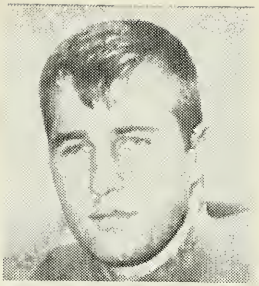
Overall: One letterman, two non-lettering juniors, three sophs.

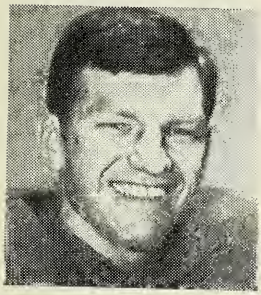
No. 88—BILL GRANT, 20, 6-2, 184, junior, from Brooklawn, N.J.—Converted from a linebacker ... an all-state selection with Gloucester City (N.J.) High as a senior ... has good speed and is a dedicated athlete ... a BPA major.



No. 82—HENRY "HANK" GAREIS (GAREiss), 20, 6-3, 190, junior from Baltimore, Md.—Another convert, from offensive end to defense ... an outstanding all-around player with ability to play more than one position ... made the all-America scholastic squad as a senior for Baltimore City College in 1965 ... was an all-state basketball player in high school ... a history major.



No. 57—STEVE WELHORSKY, 19, 6-2, 230, soph, from Little Falls, N.J.—A big man on the defensive squad who knows how to throw his weight around ... will see plenty of action ... a BPA major who enjoys all sports ... could be a future "great" at Maryland if he continues to develop.



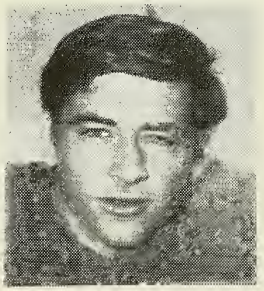
No. 81—MIKE IMPHONG (Im-fong), 19, 6-3, 203, junior, from Hancock, Md.—Came from nowhere to nail down second-team berth during spring drills ... an education major who likes all sports ... son of Paul Imphong, the head high school football coach at Hancock, Md. ... a "never-say-die" type ... will see a lot of action because he works hard at everything he pursues.

No. 74—GLENN KUBANY (Koo-BANE-ie), 20, 6-4, 211, soph from Natrona Heights, Pa.—Pre-season injuries kept him inactive last year but came to life this spring ... shifted from offensive tackle and showed great improvement from beginning to end of spring drills ... could be a real surprise ... a great discus thrower in high school, winning championship in Indiana's invitational meet in 1966 ... a BPA major.

No. 71—JOHN LITTLE, 20, 6-2, 202, soph from Levittown, Pa.—Has ideal build for a defensive end and the toughness to go with that position ... may be a year away from becoming a great defensive end .. if he develops, could wind up giving probable starters a run for their money.

The Tackles

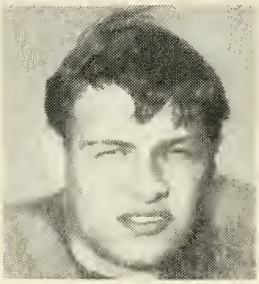
Overall: The strongest spot on the defensive squad. Four lettermen, two seniors and two juniors plus two big, promising sophs.



No. 68—JOHN GEBHARDT, 20, 6-0, 225, junior, from Lancaster, N.Y.—Twice an all-scholastic league selection ... has shown great improvement over his play last fall due chiefly to his conditioning program ... hits hard and likes it tough ... a sectional wrestling campion in the 183-lb. class in high school and an all-league baseball player ... a BPA major.

No. 66—MIKE GRACE, 20, 5-10, 222, senior, from Laurel, Md.—An in-state product who lettered his first two years . . . has been a consistent starter since midway his sophomore season . . . transferred from offensive squad after his first year . . . was named the team's best defensive lineman last year.

No. 73—JOHN DILL, 21, 6-0, 202, junior, from Washington, D.C.—A Phy. Ed. major from the nearby Nation's capital . . . earned his letter as a soph and converted from end to tackle during drills to capitalize on his strength.



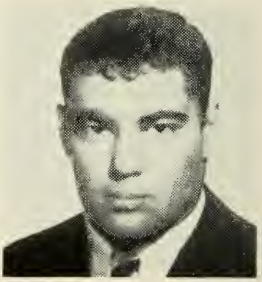
No. 70—TOM PLEVIN, 21, 6-1, 206, senior, from Uniontown, Pa.—Has earned letters his first two years at this position . . . a devoted athlete who plays his position to a T . . . injured his knee in the Syracuse (second) game last year and missed the remainder of the season . . . . majors in marketing.

No. 56—RICK STOLL, 19, 6-1, 221, soph from Takoma Park, Md.—An area product from Good Counsel High who made the all-metropolitan, all-Catholic and all-independent teams . . . gives 100 percent every second he's in the game . . . has tremendous pursuit and an uncanny ability of making the play away from him . . . BPA major.

RANDY YOST, 20, 6-0, 212, soph from Cressona, Pa.—A late-comer in the spring who made great strides as drills progressed . . . majors in advertising art.

The Middle Guards

Overall: One letterman junior, two outstanding sophs.



No. 63—PETE MATTIA (Ma.-TIE-ah), 19, 5-11, 220, soph, from N.J.—One of the pleasant surprises of spring drills . . . has tremendous strength and speed . . . has the ability to stop the play right at him and still make plays all over the field . . . could be a great middle guard if he continues to play as he did this spring.

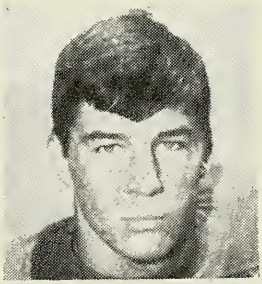
No. 72—MIKE CHADICK, 19, 6-2, 223, soph, from Wilmington, Del.—Played his high school football under Maryland assistant coach Dim Montero at Wilmington's Salesianum... his spring work earned him a position on the second unit... a pre-dental student.

No. 67—JOE DIORIO (Dee-OR-i-o), 20, 6-0, 208, junior from Newark, N.J.—Has a tremendous amount of hustle and could play a number of positions... serves as the pepper-upper for whatever unit he plays for ... extremely dependable ... majors in Recreation and enjoys surfing.

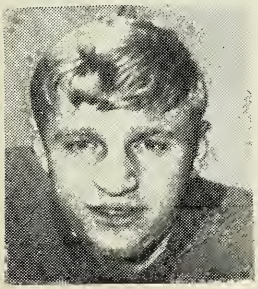
The Linebackers

Overall: Two lettermen, six outstanding sophs, one non-lettering junior.

No. 40—DEAN LANDOLT, 21, 6-0, 180, soph, from Silver Spring, Md.—One of the area's best products... played at both Springbrook High and Bullis Prep... made good from the start ... majors in business and enjoys all sports.



No. 58—DAN KECMAN, 20, 6-1, 205, junior, from West Mifflin, Pa.—One of two lettermen who'll be backing up the line... was an all-western Pennsylvania choice in high school years... had a great spring and is being counted upon heavily... a BPA major.



No. 11—STEVE CIAMBOR (See-AM-bore), 19, 5-10, 175, junior, from Cheektowaga, N.Y. —Another pleasant surprise during spring drills ... switched from defensive halfback, a spot at which he lettered last year... was on first unit at spring's end... a Physical Education major.

No. 45—JOHN DYER, 19, 6-0, 190, soph, from Norfolk, Va.—An exceedingly promising prospect who participates in all sports... has the potential to be an outstanding linebacker... an arts and science major.

No. 42—CRAIG GIENGER, 19, 6-0, 200, soph from Silver Spring, (Springbrook HS), Md.—Another Bullis School product... fast and powerful... majors in industrial education.

No. 41—RUSS NOLAN, 19, 6-1, 197, soph from Silver Spring, Md.—An all-county, suburban defensive end while playing for Springbrook High... also participates in track and basketball... majors in public relations.

No. 59—CHUCK BOWMAN, 20, 6-1, 212, junior from Williamsburg, Ohio... majors in journalism.

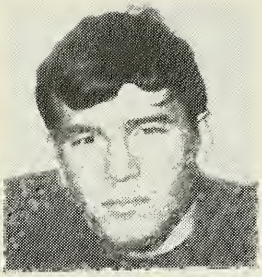
No. 55—DAVE SEIFERT (SEE-firt), 19, 6-1, 209, soph from Pittsburgh, Pa.—A real promising soph who showed steady improvement during spring drills... a student of public relations.

No. 52—BOB MACBRIDE, 20, 6-1, 210, soph from Oaklyn, N.J.—Pre-season injuries kept him from playing his first year of eligibility, but had been an all-state, all-suburban selection and the most valuable player of his Collingswood High... also wrestled and was on the track team in high school.

The Safeties

Overall: Two lettermen, one soph.

No. 10—WALLY STALNAKER, 20, 6-1, 191, junior, from Fort Myers, Fla.—Was having a terrific year as a sophomore until injured midway the season... his four interceptions in the first five games led the team in that department at end of year... a rugged tackler who covers receivers well.



No. 3—CHUCK DRIMAL, 20, 6-2, 191, junior, from Valley Stream, N.Y.—Quarterbacked the Terps the first two-thirds of last season and led the team in total offense . . . switched to the defense this spring and seems to fit in well in this position . . . a pre-law student.

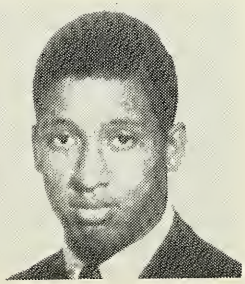
No. 36—STEVE RUCKERT, 19, 5-9, 175, soph from College Park, Md. —Showed promise during spring drills . . . selected for the all-metropolitan team after a great year as a defensive back for High Point High.

The Defensive Backs

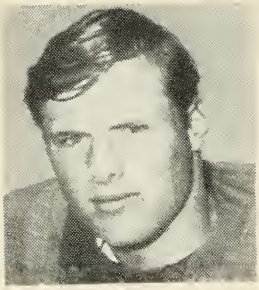
Overall: Two lettermen, two promising sophs.

No. 24—BOB HALEY, 5-10, 183, 21, senior, from Midway, Pa.—His spirit and never-say die spirit earned him a letter last year when he did a good job at safety to which position he was transferred in mid-season . . . will convert back into a defensive halfback this year.

No. 25—MIKE BRANT, 5-10, 188, 20, senior, from Avondale, Md.—One of Maryland's steadiest performers.



No. 15—ERIC MOORE, 5-11, 165, 19, soph, from Laurel, Md.—Came out for freshman football on his own last year and clinched a starting job . . . was No. 2 left half to Haley at end of spring drills . . . shows great promise.



No. 23—GARY VAN SICKLER, 5-11, 187, 19, soph, from Rockville, Md.—Showed steady improvement during spring drills and was on the second unit as they concluded.

Kicking Specialist

No. 17—GREG FRIES, 6-2, 190, 19, soph, from Salisbury, Md.—Came to Maryland with reputation as good high school kicker (38-yd. average) and punted for last year's freshmen team here . . . a specialist.

A D D E N D A to Maryland's 1968 Football Brochure 8/26/68

Two days before this brochure came off the press Roland Merritt, sprint Champion of the Atlantic Coast Conference, advised Coach Ward he would try out for football this fall.

Merritt, a 6-2,175-pound senior from Washington,D.C., holds the Maryland record for the 100 (9.4) and 220 (20.8) and was named the outstanding performer of the ACC meet last spring. He has not played football since his junior year in high school (Washington's Western High). He is a pre-dental student, a Negro and one-sixteenth Indian.

He will wear jersey number 34 and will be used as flanker back.

RECENTLY ASSIGNED JERSEY NUMBERS (not printed in brochure)

No. 21 - Joe Tomcho, junior QB
No. 34 - Roland Merritt, senior WB
No. 43 - Harold Brown, junior FB
No. 76 - Charles Hoffman, junior T

NOTE: Number 35, Paul Fitzpatrick (TB) was inadvertently omitted from the numerical roster on page 24.
